Peel and reveal with chemical exfoliation.

Cell regeneration, often called cell turnover and renewal, refers to the cell’s lifecycle, a continuous, natural process that’s imperative for skin health. A number of factors can slow this process, hindering the release (shedding) of skin cells such as: aging, excess oil, and debris on skin’s surface and even improper removal of skincare and makeup products. This can lead to dull, lackluster skin, uneven texture, congestion, and breakouts.

Skincare specialists know the importance of professional exfoliation. Get to know Glo’s chemical peel series designed to address client skin concerns in order to reveal a smoother, clearer, and more radiant complexion.

GLO LEVEL SYSTEM

Versatility and customization is yours with 15 chemical exfoliation options. Each Glo Skin Beauty chemical exfoliant and peel is grouped according to its relative strength, low to high, from 1 to 7. Our level system gives you a better understanding of the depth, strength, and activity a peel provides as well as anticipated downtime.

1 FULL TREATMENT (ALL PRODUCTS AND ACCESSORIES)

Chemical Peel: Level 3

The perfect start. This introductory professional-only level peel offers a wide range of client application—great for first time peel clients and/or sensitive skin, targeting dullness and signs of aging. While still a professional level exfoliation—meaning stronger than any at-home safe or retail equivalent, the client will most likely experience only slight activity on the skin during treatment. Although there is no significant downtime afterward, it is not uncommon for the skin to have redness for a few hours. The skin will be rejuvenated and fresh with a boost of radiance.

FLOWER ENZYME

This cream-based formula features flower extracts that contribute mild organic acids to gently smooth, revitalize, and tone skin while providing antioxidant protection.

HIBISCUS FLOWER EXTRACT: Contains organic acids to provide gentle exfoliation; inhibits elastase.

PUMPKIN FERMENT: Rich in vitamin A; assists in breaking down dead and irregular cell build up.

FICIN: A proteolytic or protein digesting enzyme which comes from fig sap.

All skin types and concerns except extremely sensitive.

230 mL e 7.8 fl. oz.

Chemical Peel: Level 4

More specific and targeted. This level is designed for a more specific audience and targets two top concerns: clear skin and bright skin. Within this range of peels, it is common for the client to experience activity on the skin during treatment. Keep that in mind for first time peel clients and sensitive skin, but there should be no downtime afterward. Post treatment, the skin may have a slightly flushed appearance and overall will be glowing.

Chemical Peel: Level 5

True customization and layering starts here. These peels are perfect not only for all over use, but also for spot or area application. Designed for all skin types except sensitive, both of these extremely versatile peels offer little to no downtime. It is likely for the skin to have slight redness post treatment with visible improvement in skin conditions and texture after a single service. For full face or large area application neither Level 5 peel is suitable for first time peel clients. For best results, introduce after 3-5 other lower level Glo peel treatments in a graduated approach along with the client pre-treating their skin with proper homecare.

Chemical Peel: Level 7

The highest level for maximum impact. Two physician strength peels target multiple concerns and create the highest level of transformation within the Glo Skin Beauty peel series. Based on their tolerance, typically a client will build up to this level after 5+ lower level Glo peel treatments in a graduated approach along with the client pre-treating their skin with proper homecare. Not designed for first time peel clients. Downtime is common for 7-14 days. Initially after treatment, skin will feel tight, then will most likely darken, then peel.

The power of touch.

The healing benefits of the power of touch have been promoted for centuries. But who knew massage not only makes you feel good, but also look good, too? We live in a busy, fast-paced world and many of us are stressed out. Chronic stress can increase cortisol levels in our bodies which can wreak havoc on our complexions, causing issues like breakouts, redness and sensitivity, dryness and dehydration, as well as aging. Incorporating massage into your professional treatments can provide numerous visible benefits to your client's skin beyond relaxation.

Massage

Whether you are performing a traditional European-style or more detailed pressure point massage, the following products are designed for this step. Combining the power of touch, aromatherapy, and massage for deep relaxation promotes overall wellbeing and balance for your clients.
